In consequences of the consequences of con March & Mall also to soform the Senate of the names of railroad corporations claiming lands not earned during the lifetime of the grant, together with the number of acres claimed by resch. At the expiration of the morning hour the Senate proceeded to the election of officers. General Anson McCook was chosen Secretary, and the balance of the Republican nominees elected. The Senate went into exceptive season, and when the doors were reopened went into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of continuing the consideration of the rules. Pending consideration of the rules season. The House was not in session.

Is the Senate, the 19th, the bill adapting the new standard time to the District of Columbia passed. The Senate then resumed consideration of unfinished business in regard to rules. After a longithy discussion the Sec. to took up the House resolutions for a holiday recess and amended it to read from Monday, Decerabe 48, to Monday, January 7, As amended as reed to, and returned to the House. After vecutive seedon, adjourned. In the House, Mr. Scales prosented the certificate of election of Mr. Skinner, representative-edect of the First District of North Carolina. This led to a lengthy discussion, non-partition in His character, the question, opened being that of the legality of an election for a yacaney under the new apportionment. Finally aresolution of Mr. Hiscock was acreed to that Mr. Skinner be sworn in and the reference of the main features of the case to the Committe of Flections, with instructions to report quickly. A report by Mr. Blackburn for the creation of a number of committees, called forth an amendment by Mr. Reed for the creation of a Committee on the Alcoholic Liquor Traffic, which brought on a debate in which Mr. Vance in reply to those who opposed it said the object of such a committee only looked to get this life of the individual of the people and opportunity to gather information or a subject of interest to every human being on the confinent. The sentiment of the people about the representatives of the people would accord the friends of humanity, justice, mercy and happy houses the right to be heard, and extend to the people an opportunity to gather information or a subject of such tremendous importance, which wrented so many house-noids of the land. of Owen and Greene Counties, thirty-five miles north of this place. Two children of Mr. James Dyer were burned to death, and the father has been indicted by the Owen lodged in jail for the alleged murder.

A Modern Fable.

A dog, on a warm summer day, lay down in the shade, and soon felt asicep. He was awakened by the noise of a huge bull approaching his shady of a huge bull approaching his shady resting-place.

"Get up," said the bull, "and let me lie down there?"

"No," replied the dog, "yed have no right to the place; I was here first."

"Weil," said the bull, looking innocently at the dog, but with a ferocious twinkle in his left eye, which made the dogs spinal column run cold and his lower jaw give way, "let us toss up for it."
